Employee Benefits July 1, 2012 through June 30, 2013

The City of Portland offers a comprehensive benefit package that is competitive with other private and public sector employers. This summary does not include every plan provision but rather outlines some of the major provisions of each plan.

Important Information about this Benefit Summary: This summary is not an employment contract. Contracts and other legal documents govern the administration of the plans summarized below. The respective Plan Documents, applicable labor agreements, insured plan contracts, state and federal law govern the actual benefits of any option you elect for the plan year. If there is a conflict between any of the terms summarized in this document and the applicable plan document, labor agreement, state or federal law; then the plan document, labor agreement, state or federal law shall govern and control the amount of actual benefits to which you or an eligible dependent are entitled. Unless required by federal or state law, the City reserves the right to change or end any of its benefit plans during the course of a plan year, subject to your labor agreement. Initial and continuing eligibility depends on your job class and Position Status Code. If your job class and/or your Position Status Codes change during the plan year, eligibility for you and your eligible dependents may change or end.
