Background on the project

West Hayden Island is an 800+ acre undeveloped portion of Hayden Island that is currently outside of the city limits, but within the Metro Urban Growth Boundary. The City commissioned a consultant to draft technical studies and engaged a Community Working Group (CWG), made up of a variety of citizens and government interests, to determine whether WHI can be developed for multiple uses, including marine industrial, natural resources and recreational uses. For more information please visit the project website at www.portlandonline.com/bps/whi.
