Subject:	Direction to Develop--Cultural Mapping Project
Date:	Monday, February 4, 2019 11:35:16 AM

Hello OMF Leadership,

Please find below the language for the Direction to Develop focused on mapping Portland's cultural landscape coming from Commissioner Eudaly's office.

Issue Overview: There is a critical need for cultural planning in Portland. The city is changing rapidly, artists and arts organizations are being displaced, and historically underserved populations are in danger of being overlooked by current systems of support. The first step of comprehensive cultural planning is to take an inventory of our current assets, mapping the facilities, industries, public art, artist networks, festivals, and cultural organizations that make up Portland's cultural ecology.

This type of mapping has been called for in two separate City reports, A Plan for Preserving and Expanding Affordable Arts Space in Portland (Arts Affordability Plan), which recommended the creation of "an inventory and map of creative spaces in Portland", and the recent audit of the Regional Arts and Culture Council (RACC), which recommended that the City "assess the state of arts and culture in Portland" to inform a more comprehensive cultural plan.

Office of Management and Finance is directed to develop a decision package proposal to produce a cultural asset inventory and map, including community outreach, data gathering, and map design.

Please let me know if you have any further questions or concerns moving forward.

Warm regards,

Polly
