Case Type: HR – Historic Resource Review
Procedure: Type I - An administrative decision with appeal to the Oregon Land Use Board of Appeals (LUBA)

Proposal:

The applicant seeks historic resource review approval for exterior alterations to a 1922 bungalow style house which is a contributing resource in the Irvington Historic District. The proposal includes removing 2 non-historic slider windows, one on the north façade and one on the east façade of the house, and replacing them with 2 new wood double-hung windows in the same openings. The existing wood trim around both windows will remain in place. Historic resource review is required for exterior alterations to structures in this historic district.

Relevant Approval Criteria:

In order to be approved, this proposal must comply with the approval criteria specified in the Portland Zoning Code. The relevant approval criteria are:

- 33.846 Historic Resource Review
- 33.846.060.G Other Approval Criteria

ANALYSIS

Site and Vicinity: The subject resource, a one and one-half story bungalow style house on a standard 50' x 100' lot, was built in 1922 and retains a majority of its original exterior material and detailing. Alterations to the two subject window openings were done at some point in time, prior to the creation of the Irvington Historic District. The house is evaluated in the National Register of Historic Places documentation as contributing to the character the Irvington Historic District.

The contributing resources in Irvington range in design character from expressions of the late Victorian Era styles, especially Queen Anne, through the many Period Revival modes of the early decades of the Twentieth Century, to a few early modernist examples. There is also a wide diversity in the sizes of lots and houses. In terms of the streetscape, the numbered north-south avenues in Irvington vary dramatically in width, and they mostly form rather long block faces which the houses generally face. The named east-west street block faces are more consistent in length, almost all being traditional 200' Portland blocks. All are lined with mature street trees. Original development in many cases included garages or other accessory structures, typically facing side streets on corner lots and accessed by a variety of driveway types on mid-block sites. Garages that were added after original construction, but still within the historic period, were sometimes built at the sidewalk and/or out of architectural character with the house.

Zoning: The Residential 5,000 (R5) single-dwelling zone is intended to preserve land for housing and to provide housing opportunities for individual households. The zone implements the comprehensive plan policies and designations for single-dwelling housing. Minimum lot size is 3,000 square feet, with minimum width and depth dimensions of 36 and 50 feet, respectively. Minimum densities are based on lot size and street configuration. Maximum densities are 1 lot per 5,000 square feet of site area. Single-family residential uses are allowed by right in this zone.

The Historic Resource Protection overlay is comprised of Historic and Conservation Districts, as well as Historic and Conservation Landmarks and protects certain historic resources in the region and preserves significant parts of the region's heritage. The regulations implement Portland's Comprehensive Plan policies that address historic preservation. These policies recognize the role historic resources have in promoting the education and enjoyment of those living in and visiting the region. The regulations foster pride among the region's citizens in their city and its heritage. Historic preservation beautifies the city, promotes the city's economic health, and helps to preserve and enhance the value of historic properties.

Land Use History: City records indicate there are no prior land use reviews for this site.

ZONING CODE APPROVAL CRITERIAChapter 33.846.060 - Historic Resource Review

Purpose of Historic Resource Review

Historic Resource Review ensures the conservation and enhancement of the special characteristics of historic resources.

Historic Resource Review Approval Criteria

Requests for Historic Resource Review will be approved if the review body finds the applicant has shown that all of the approval criteria have been met.

Findings: The site is within the Irvington Historic District and the proposal is for non-exempt treatment. Therefore Historic Resource Review approval is required. The approval criteria are those listed in 33.846.060 G – Other Approval Criteria.

Staff has considered all guidelines and addressed only those applicable to this proposal.

33.846.060 G - Other Approval Criteria

1. Historic character. The historic character of the property will be retained and preserved. Removal of historic materials or alteration of features and spaces that contribute to the property's historic significance will be avoided.

8. Architectural compatibility. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction will be compatible with the resource's massing, size, scale, and architectural features. When retrofitting buildings or sites to improve accessibility for persons with disabilities, design solutions will not compromise the architectural integrity of the historic resource.

10. Hierarchy of compatibility. Exterior alterations and additions will be designed to be compatible primarily with the original resource, secondarily with adjacent properties, and finally, if located within a Historic or Conservation District, with the rest of the district. Where practical, compatibility will be pursued on all three levels.

Findings for 1, 8 & 10: The new windows proposed for the rear and side of the house will not alter the historic character of the property as the new elements will match existing architectural features in materials and style. The proposed new wood windows will match existing elements on the house in form and type, making them compatible with the size, scale, and architectural features present in this 1922 bungalow style house. The new windows are compatible with the original structure, with adjacent residential properties, and with the rest of the Historic District by the matching of typical historic profiles and materials. These criteria are therefore met.

2. Record of its time. The historic resource will remain a physical record of its time, place, and use. Changes that create a false sense of historic development, such as adding conjectural features or architectural elements from other buildings will be avoided.

Findings: The new windows will compliment similar existing on the house and are not conjectural additions of elements from other buildings. The proposed alterations do not affect the resource's physical record of its time, place and use as it will remain a single-family home in the period style. The new windows will retain the horizontal divisions of the existing windows as well as the overall style seen on the house today. This criterion is therefore met.

3. Historic changes. Most properties change over time. Those changes that have acquired historic significance will be preserved.

Findings: The non-historic slider windows have not acquired historic significance. The new wood windows match other windows present on the house do not adversely affect the historic character of the resource. The criterion is therefore met.

4. Historic features. Generally, deteriorated historic features will be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires replacement, the new feature will match the old in design, color, texture, and other visual qualities and, where practical, in materials. Replacement of missing features must be substantiated by documentary, physical, or pictorial evidence.

Findings: No deteriorated features will be affected by this proposal. This criterion is not applicable.

5. Historic materials. Historic materials will be protected. Chemical or physical treatments, such as sandblasting, that cause damage to historic materials will not be used.

Findings: No chemical or physical treatments are proposed and surrounding historic material will remain in place. This criterion is not applicable.

6. Archaeological resources. Significant archaeological resources affected by a proposal will be protected and preserved to the extent practical. When such resources are disturbed, mitigation measures will be undertaken.

Findings: There is no ground disturbance proposed with this work so no resources are expected to be found. This criterion is therefore met.

7. Differentiate new from old. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction will not destroy historic materials that characterize a property. New work will be differentiated from the old.

Findings: The proposed new windows will match existing features on the house in style, profile and composition, but will be fabricated out of new material, giving them a less weathered appearance which will differentiate them from older elements on the building. Existing historic material will not be destroyed and existing historic trim around both windows openings will be retained. This criterion is therefore met.

9. Preserve the form and integrity of historic resources. New additions and adjacent or related new construction will be undertaken in such a manner that if removed in the future, the essential form and integrity of the historic resource and its environment would be unimpaired.

Findings: There is no new construction proposed for this site. This criterion does not apply.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

Unless specifically required in the approval criteria listed above, this proposal does not have to meet the development standards in order to be approved during this review process. The plans submitted for a building or zoning permit must demonstrate that all development standards of Title 33 can be met, or have received an Adjustment or Modification via a land use review prior to the approval of a building or zoning permit.

CONCLUSIONS

The purpose of the Historic Resource Review process is to ensure that additions, new construction, and exterior alterations to historic resources do not compromise their ability to convey historic significance. The proposed new windows and removal of non-historic windows is a sensitive alteration to the north and east façades that maintains the historic form of the house so as to not compromise the historic character of Irvington Historic District. This proposal meets the applicable Historic Resource Review criteria and therefore warrants approval.
