Budget Equity Assessment Tool

This Budget Equity Assessment Tool is a general set of questions to guide you and your Budget Advisory Committee in assessing how current budget requests or decisions benefit and/or burden communities, specifically communities of color and people with disabilities. This is a critical part of the City or Portland's commitment to ending inequity based on race and disability.

The use of the Budget Equity Assessment Tool in developing your budget will guide you through answering these questions. It is recommended that all managers and others who work on the budget for the bureau use this tool.

HOW TO USE THIS DOCUMENT

The document is divided into four specific sections: 1. Advancing Equity Overall; 2. Personnel; 3. Programs/Services; 4. Equitable Public Participation. Each section has a series of questions. The Office of Equity and Human Rights is available for discussion/training/consultation regarding the use of this document.

BUREAU/OFFICE/DEPARTMENT Commissioner of Public Affairs

I. ADVANCING EQUITY

1. Will this budget proposal reduce, limit or eliminate programs that are vital to or disproportionately needed by communities of color, immigrant and refugee communities and/or people living with a disability?

This budget proposal will not reduce, limit or eliminate services that are needed by communities of color, immigrant and refugee communities, or people living with a disability.

2. Will this budget proposal increase, expand or create programs that are vital to or disproportionately needed by communities of color, immigrant and refugee communities and/or people living with a disability?

The Commissioner of Public Affairs does not have any applicable decision packages that will increase or expand services to communities of color, immigrant and refugee communities, or people living with a disability. However, their Gateway Center for Domestic Violence serves women from all communities seeking to leave situations of domestic violence.

3. What considerations were taken into account in this proposal to maximize equity?

> Bureau Director: Dante J. James, Esq.

The Mayor and Commissioners are nonpartisan City Council members that participate in the enactment and enforcement of City laws and policies that promote a viable, livable, and sustainable city. Each member works with their assigned City bureaus to further the city-wide goals in the Portland Plan, including goals around making equity real. This means they strive to model how the city government and its partners make decisions, invest, and engage with Portlanders, using an equity lens. Each member's budget dedicates staff and/or programs to address these issues.

II. PERSONNEL

NOTE: It is understood that final demographics resulting from any staff reduction may not be known if there is a bumping process to be completed. However, it is important to monitor the demographics of any layoffs or staff reductions to assess the specific impact to people of color and people with disability (if known). Human Resources can be a resource for this data if it is unknown.

1. What is the number of staff reductions in this proposed budget?

N/A – no staff reductions

2. What is the racial demographic of any staff reductions being proposed?

N/A – no staff reductions

3. What is the remaining racial demographic of your bureau after the reductions?

Same as current demographics

4. What is the position level of any staff reductions being made, e.g., management vs. line staff?

N/A – no staff reductions

5. To your knowledge, is there an adverse impact on employees with a disability due to these staff reductions?

N/A – no staff reductions

IV.	CONTRACTING

IV

1. Does the proposed budget impact contracting with outside sources?

> Bureau Director: Dante J. James, Esq.

While the Office of the Commissioner of Public Affairs does contract with outside vendors, none of this year's budget decisions directly provide new contracting opportunities.

- 2. What percentage of contracting/consulting work is performed by M/WESB contractors?
 - a. In what capacity (prime contractor, sub-contractor, supplier, etc.)

In FY 2012-13, the Office of the Commissioner of Public Affairs had two contracts (Construction or PTE), totaling $7,500 and 0% of them were M/W/ESB vendors at the prime contractor level. These two contracts were:

DESCRIPTION	AWARD	DATE	VENDOR
GATEWAY CENTER FOR DOMESTIC			NA STATE OF THE ST
VIOLENCE SERVICES EMERGENCY			IRCO/INTERNATIONAL
INTERPRETATION SERVICES FOR NON-			REFUGEE CENTER OF
ENGLISH SPEAKING CLIENTS	$5,000.00	08/14/12	OREGON
DATABASE SUPPORT FOR PORTLAND CHILDREN'S LEVY	$2,500.00	09/14/12	IMBUE INFORMATION DESIGN

3. How will this budget impact consulting or contracting with M/W/ESB contractors? (Including professional services)

As mentioned above, the Commissioner's budget is not likely to provide new contracting opportunities. The Office will continue to partner with Procurement Services to use M/W/ESB vendors in its ongoing procurement processes, particularly those industries involved in the Social Equity Contracting Strategy.

V. EQUITABLE PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

1. How have you ensured inclusive and equitable participation in the preparation of this budget?

> Bureau Director: Dante J. James, Esq.

Realizing Equity. Enhancing the City of Portland.

As an elected official, the Commissioner makes decisions based on bureau recommended research and broad public input, seeking the long term public good for the whole city. While the Council offices do not have Budget Advisory

Populations Impacted Potential Positive Impacts Potential Negative Impacts

Committees, each office has personnel serving as Policy Advisors, who work closely with City bureaus and constituent services staff who receive calls, inquiries, and feedback from the public.

2. How does this budget build community capacity and power in communities most impacted by inequities?

Though this budget does not create any new contracting opportunities, both the Gateway Center for Domestic Violence Services, and the voter approved Portland Children's Levy work to build community capacity and power for women and children in all communities.
