

Heritage Trees of Portland

CAROLINA POPLAR (Populus x canadensis) SALICACEAE

- Hybrid between Eastern cottonwood (P. deltoides) and Lombardy poplar (P. nigra 'Italia'), from 1830s.
- Height can reach 150', circumference up to 20'.
- Leaves heart-shaped, 3-5" long.
- All trees are male clones.
- Fairly common in Portland along streets with houses built 1900-15.

90 Carolina poplar (Populus x canadensis)

3945 NE Couch

H 75, S 54, C 16.67

LEGEND
* X cr. nr.	privately owned across from corner near	H	height
		S	canopy spread
		C	circumference of trunk
(all measurements in feet)			