

Heritage Trees of Portland

CAMPERDOWN ELM (Ulmus glabra 'Camperdownii') ULMACEAE

- Native to Camperdown House near Dundee, Scotland. Found ca. 1850 as a seedling creeping along the ground, a "sport" of the Wych elm. All Camperdown elms in the world came from this sport. Most trees are grafted onto understock at about 6-8' above ground.
- Height can reach 30'.
- Leaves 6-8" long, 4-6" broad, double-toothed to a sharp point, base unequal, rough on top.
- Flowers and seeds similar to Wych elm.
- Fairly rare in Portland. This Heritage Tree is a real show-off.
