

The Carrot Report

Fall 2011

Community Garden Plots

The following is a breakdown of new community garden plots created since the Portland-Multnomah Climate Action Plan was adopted in the Summer of 2009.

The carrot leaves are partly filled because if we count ALL the new gardens in Portland we can say that we've already collectively reached our goal.

The gardens listed below are gardens connected to our Community Gardens Initiative. (We've listed the garden name, the season it opened, and the number of plots it added.)
