Carrie Wilton, City Attorney

Carrie is the Citywide paralegal for public records requests. She works tirelessly to make sure that all the bureau's respond in the same way. She has written best practices, provided trainings to the bureaus on digital discovery pro and GovQA --and some of those requests can have over 10,000 emails. She has an amazing impact on making records transparent and can help clarify requests. She is always calm under pressure and can analyze how we can complete requests. She always has a smile while working under enormous pressure and short timelines. Carrie exemplifies what City employees should strive to be; she is highly respected by all the public records custodians. Carrie is our Wonder Woman!

Jenifer Johnston, City Attorney

Jenifer is the Citywide attorney in charge of the City's public records requests. She is very passionate about providing records and works countless hours. It's a Dirty job, but someone must do it-- meeting the public records request challenge -- and this is one of the City's greatest challenges it is facing. She worked on procuring the Citywide public records software program and she provides monthly trainings to public records responders in each bureau. People imagine that they can find records like on the "CSI" TV show, which is not the case. She has a great sense of humor and truly strives to make all of us better at responding to requests. We are truly lucky to have Jenifer lead our TEAM! Jenifer is a Wonder Woman!
