Joining BDS as a Building Inspector I is your gateway to an Inspections career. The work includes performing field inspections on residential structures. You'll need to know how to apply and interpret structural/mechanical and related codes. As an employee, BDS will provide you with training and support to complete additional certifications required to become a Combination Inspector. Don't miss this great opportunity to use your trades skills in a job with steady hours, a full benefits package, and on-the-job training to further your Building Inspections career.
