Proposal:

The applicant is seeking Historic Resource Review approval for a proposed new single-dwelling development with a detached accessory dwelling unit (ADU) on a 5,000 SF vacant lot in the Irvington Historic District. The proposed new primary structure is 2 ½ - stories tall and the proposed detached ADU is 2-stories tall. The primary wall of the primary structure is proposed to be setback 25' from the front property line, with a 9' deep full-width front porch. The primary exterior materials included painted fiber cement 'Hardie Artisan' lap siding with a 4" reveal and mitered corners, fiber cement 'Hardie' trim boards and panels with a smooth finish, aluminum clad-wood windows, an all-wood front door, aluminum clad-wood rear doors, all-wood railings on the front porch, and an extruded brick chimney.

Historic Resource Review is required because the proposal is for non-exempt new construction in the Irvington Historic District.

Approval Criteria:

In order to be approved, this proposal must comply with the approval criteria of Title 33, Portland Zoning Code. The applicable approval criteria are:

- 33.846.060 Other Approval Criteria

ANALYSIS

Site and Vicinity: The applicant is seeking Historic Resource Review approval for a new single-dwelling development with a detached ADU on a 5,000 square foot vacant, noncontributing lot located in the Irvington Historic District. The subject lot previously included a noncontributing resource that was demolished in 2015. The subject lot has 50 feet of west-facing frontage onto NE 13th Avenue which is a Local Service Transit Street, a Local Street, Local Service Walkway, and a City Bikeway.

The structures located on the surrounding block are primarily contributing resources in the Irvington Historic District constructed between the years of 1910 and 1937. One notable exception is the adjacent lot directly south to 2602 which has a house built in 2007. All but four of the 20 structures on the block are contributing resources. Similar to the District as a whole, the surrounding block includes a wide range of styles that were typical of the era. There are craftsman cottages, American foursquare, and even a Spanish revival in the adjacent lot to the north. The parcels on this block are consistently 50'x100' creating a cohesive fabric for the neighborhood. The houses here also display a range of heights from single story to 2-3/4 floors with a substantial attic level but most of the houses are 2 floors with the second floor consisting of a large attic.

Zoning: The Residential 5,000 (R5) single-dwelling zone is intended to preserve land for housing and to provide housing opportunities for individual households. The zone implements the comprehensive plan policies and designations for single-dwelling housing. Minimum lot size is 3,000 square feet, with minimum width and depth dimensions of 36 and 50 feet, respectively. Minimum densities are based on lot size and street configuration. Maximum densities are 1 lot per 5,000 square feet of site area.

The Historic Resource Protection overlay is comprised of Historic and Conservation Districts, as well as Historic and Conservation Landmarks and protects certain historic resources in the region and preserves significant parts of the region's heritage. The regulations implement Portland's Comprehensive Plan policies that address historic preservation. These policies recognize the role historic resources have in promoting the education and enjoyment of those living in and visiting the region. The regulations foster pride among the region's citizens in their city and its heritage. Historic preservation beautifies the city, promotes the city's economic health, and helps to preserve and enhance the value of historic properties.

Irvington Historic District Platted in the late Nineteenth Century as the first addition to Portland that employed restrictive covenants, the Irvington area developed intensely with a mix of middle class housing types and sizes during the first two decades of the Twentieth Century. The contributing resources in Irvington range in design character from expressions of the late Victorian Era styles, especially Queen Anne, through the many Period Revival modes of the early decades of the Twentieth Century, to a few early modernist examples. There is also a wide diversity in the sizes of lots and houses. In terms of the streetscape, the numbered north-south avenues in Irvington vary dramatically in width, and they mostly form rather long block faces which the houses generally face. The named east-west street block faces are more consistent in length, almost all being traditional 200' Portland blocks. All are lined with mature street trees. These patterns help to lend the neighborhood the distinctive and homogeneous historic character.

Land Use History: City records indicate the following prior land use reviews for this site:

- EA 15-145936 PC – Pre-Application Conference for a proposed single dwelling development.
- EA 15-196746 DA – Design Advice Request with the Historic Landmarks Commission to discuss a proposed single dwelling development.
- EA 19-224021 PC – Pre-Application Conference to discuss the subject single dwelling development.
- EA 19-243201 DA – Design Advice Request with the Historic Landmarks Commission to discuss the subject single dwelling development.

Agency Review: A “Notice of proposal in Your Neighborhood” was mailed on March 24, 2020. The following Bureaus have responded with no issues or concerns with the approval of the Design Review:

1. Bureau of Transportation Engineering (See Exhibit E-1)
2. Bureau of Environmental Services (See Exhibit E-4)
3. Life safety Division of BDS (See Exhibit E-2)
4. Site Development Section of BDS (See Exhibit E-3)
5. Fire Bureau (See Exhibit E-5)
6. Urban Forestry (See Exhibit E-6)

Neighborhood Review: A Notice of Proposal in Your Neighborhood was mailed on March 24, 2020. One written response has been received from either the Neighborhood Association or notified property owners in response to the proposal.

1. Dean Gisvold, Chair of the Irvington Community Association Land Use Committee, on April 1, 2020, noting progress in the design since the Design Advice Request and noting some remaining concerns with the scale of the proposed primary structure and detached ADU. See Exhibit F-1 for additional information.

Staff response: The proposal reflects a thoughtful response to the feedback provided by the Commission, the ICA, and immediate neighbors at the Design Advice Request meeting held on November 25, 2019. Staff notes that the changes made to decrease the perceived mass of the proposed structures by increasing roof pitch, lowering floor heights, and minimizing the proposed street facing dormer on the primary structure address concerns with the previously proposed mass and proportion. By referencing the historic setback pattern in the District, pushing the primary wall back to be 25' from the front property line, has also addressed previously noted concerns. Lastly, the changes made to decrease the perceived mass of the detached ADU, pulling the walls away from the side and rear property lines to allow for a proportional eave, and removing the one window on the east (rear) wall of the ADU have addressed previously noted concerns. Please see findings below for additional information.

Procedural History:

ZONING CODE APPROVAL CRITERIA

Chapter 33.846.060 - Historic Resource Review

Purpose of Historic Resource Review

Historic Resource Review ensures the conservation and enhancement of the special characteristics of historic resources.

Historic Resource Review Approval Criteria

Requests for Historic Resource Review will be approved if the review body finds the applicant has shown that all of the approval criteria have been met.

Findings: The site is within the Irvington Historic District and the proposal is for non-exempt treatment. Therefore, Historic Resource Review approval is required. The approval criteria are those listed in 33.846.060 G – Other Approval Criteria.

Staff has considered all guidelines and addressed only those applicable to this proposal.

33.846.060 G - Other Approval Criteria

1. Historic character. The historic character of the property will be retained and preserved. Removal of historic materials or alteration of features and spaces that contribute to the property's historic significance will be avoided.

2. Record of its time. The historic resource will remain a physical record of its time, place, and use. Changes that create a false sense of historic development, such as adding conjectural features or architectural elements from other buildings will be avoided.
3. Historic changes. Most properties change over time. Those changes that have acquired historic significance will be preserved.
4. Historic features. Generally, deteriorated historic features will be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires replacement, the new feature will match the old in design, color, texture, and other visual qualities and, where practical, in materials. Replacement of missing features must be substantiated by documentary, physical, or pictorial evidence.
5. Historic materials. Historic materials will be protected. Chemical or physical treatments, such as sandblasting, that cause damage to historic materials will not be used.

Findings for 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5: The subject property is a vacant lot listed as a noncontributing resource in the Irvington Historic District. As the features on the subject site are not listed in the District nomination as historically significant, the proposal development does not result in alteration to historically significant material, architectural features, or spaces. As the proposed development does not include alteration to historic materials or features, the proposal maintains the historic character of the resource, which in this case is the District as a whole. These criteria are met.

6. Archaeological resources. Significant archaeological resources affected by a proposal will be protected and preserved to the extent practical. When such resources are disturbed, mitigation measures will be undertaken.

Findings: Significant archaeological resources affected by a proposal will be protected and preserved to the extent practical. Because the proposal includes significant excavation, there is increased potential that archaeological resources could be impacted. To ensure that any significant archeological resources will be protected, staff has added Condition of Approval 'C'. With Condition of Approval 'C' that, in the event of any archaeological discovery, work will be stopped, and the State Archaeologist will be notified, this criterion is met.

7. Differentiate new from old. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction will not destroy historic materials that characterize a property. New work will be differentiated from the old.
8. Architectural compatibility. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction will be compatible with the resource's massing, size, scale, and architectural features. When retrofitting buildings or sites to improve accessibility for persons with disabilities, design solutions will not compromise the architectural integrity of the historic resource.
9. Preserve the form and integrity of historic resources. New additions and adjacent or related new construction will be undertaken in such a manner that if removed in the future, the essential form and integrity of the historic resource and its environment would be unimpaired.
10. Hierarchy of compatibility. Exterior alterations and additions will be designed to be compatible primarily with the original resource, secondarily with adjacent properties, and finally, if located within a Historic or Conservation District, with the rest of the district. Where practical, compatibility will be pursued on all three levels.

Findings for 7, 8, 9 and 10: As designed, the proposal addresses the above-mentioned approval criteria in the following ways:

- The proposed structure is a 2-1/2 story structure with a full, partially day-lighted basement. As noted in the Applicant's narrative (Exhibit A-1), this 2 ½ story massing as well as the referenced style of the proposal, the American Foursquare, is consistent with the historical narrative of the lot when it was first developed in 1922.
- The primary wall of the proposed house is set back 25' from the front property line, responsive to historic setback patterns in the District. As such, the siting of the proposed house is responsive to the District, is consistent with the ranges of setbacks established by surrounding contributing resources and allows for a generous 9'-0" deep front porch which is a common character-defining feature seen in the District.
- The proposed materials include a thick, 5/8" 'Hardie Artisan' fiber cement lap with a 4" reveal and mitered corners. In the proposed application of the fiber cement lap siding, the "HardieTrim Panel" at 5/8" thick, and the "HardieTrim" trim boards as 1" thick; the thickness of the boards and the detailing of the proposed assembly ensure compatibility of the proposed new construction with traditional wood detailing in the District.
- The proposed windows are an aluminum clad-wood (Marvin Ultimate G2) windows that employ an exterior extruded aluminum profile that when recessed into the wall plane and used in new construction, adequately references significant characteristics of wood windows seen on contributing resources in the District.
- The inclusion of the prominent extruded brick chimney, the wood railings, and all-wood front door strongly relate to prominent features and detailing of contributing resources in the District.
- The design, form and detailing of the proposed primary structure and the proposed detached accessory dwelling unit (ADU) are compatible with the vernacular of the referenced Craftsman architectural style and are compatible with the residential design vocabulary, including mass, scale, and architectural features that create the essential form of the Irvington Historic District. While elements of the detached ADU, including the proposed Juliet balconies, are not typical on structures of this use and scale in the district, due to the placement of the detached accessory structure much of this structure will not be visible.
- The design of the proposal successfully defers to historic fabric of the District in terms of siting, scale, configuration, style, and exceptional detailing of the proposed structures while employing the use of contemporary materials and construction methods. Thus the proposal ensures compatibility with, while successfully differentiating from, the historic fabric of the District.

These criteria are met.

DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

Unless specifically required in the approval criteria listed above, this proposal does not have to meet the development standards in order to be approved during this review process. The plans submitted for a building or zoning permit must demonstrate that all development standards of Title 33 can be met, or have received an Adjustment or Modification via a land use review prior to the approval of a building or zoning permit.

CONCLUSIONS

The design of the proposal successfully defers to historic fabric of the District in terms of siting, scale, configuration, style, and exceptional detailing of the proposed structures while employing the use of contemporary materials and construction methods, thus ensuring compatibility with the adjacent resources and the District as a whole. The purpose of the Historic Resource Review process is to ensure that additions, new construction, and exterior alterations to historic resources do not compromise their ability to convey historic significance. This proposal meets the applicable Historic Resource Review criteria approval criteria and therefore warrants approval.
