

Winter rains

Prepare your home and your family for the rainy season, especially if you live or work in a floodplain. Information inside.

Do you live or work in a floodplain?

GET INFORMED

- Find out if your home or business is in a floodplain. At PortlandMaps.com, enter your address. Click on “Public Safety,” then click on “FEMA Special Flood Hazard Area.”
- Check local radio and TV stations for weather and flood information.
- Find river level information at www.nwrfc.noaa.gov/rfc
- Get Portland weather at www.weather.gov/pqr.
- Subscribe to the City’s public emergency notifications at PublicAlerts.org.
On Twitter: @PublicAlerts

STAY SAFE

- Avoid driving or walking through floodwaters. Use a stick to steady yourself if you must walk.
- Assemble a disaster supplies kit—www.portlandoregon.gov/pbem/kit.
- Stay away from downed power lines and report them to PGE at 1-800-544-1795 or Pacific Power at 1-877-508-5088.

PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY

- Make an inventory of your property before a disaster. Keep the list safe.
- Shut off gas and electricity. Move valuables upstairs or to upper cabinets when a flood is coming.

CHECK YOUR INSURANCE

Basic homeowners insurance doesn’t cover flood damage. If you have a mortgage and live in the 100-year floodplain, you’re probably required to carry flood insurance. Portland residents get up to a 20% discount on flood insurance because Portland participates in FEMA’s Community Rating System. Learn more at FloodSmart.gov.

CONSTRUCTION and adding or moving soil in the floodplain requires permits. Call 503-823-6892 before you build for more information. If you see construction without a city permit sign posted, call 503-823-CODE.

Need technical assistance? If you have questions about drainage issues on your property, we can help.

Nature at work. Once a place where flooding frequently damaged homes and businesses, this restored floodplain has reduced neighborhood flooding while creating a good home for fish, birds, salamanders, and other wildlife. Nature helps us solve urban problems. Learn more at www.portlandoregon.gov/bes/RiverViews.
