ADMINISTRATIVE SPECIALIST III

[CLASS CODE]

[ESTABLISHED DATE]

CLASSIFICATION SUMMARY

Reports to a Manager, Director, or other management- or executive-level position. Under minimal supervision, functions as an executive assistant to an executive-level position or leadership team, and/or performs a wide variety and full range of specialized, professional, complex, and confidential administrative support functions in support of a program, organizational unit, or division.

Responsibilities include: acting as a liaison to internal and external customers for a Bureau/Office Director or executive-level position; researching, developing, and producing Bureau/Office policies; overseeing the preparation of meeting agendas and related documents, and ensuring their proper dissemination; assisting in the development of the Bureau/Office budget and financial plan; developing, establishing, and maintaining logs, files, indexes, and records systems; scheduling events, meetings, phone calls; compiling and editing reports; checking the work of others for errors; verifying information to be included in documents of public record. Duties include handling confidential information with discretion. Responsibilities are broad in scope, allow for a high degree of administrative discretion, and are evaluated in terms of timeliness, quality, and cost effectiveness.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS

Administrative Specialist III is the third of four classifications in the Administrative Specialist series.

Administrative Specialist III is distinguished from Administrative Specialist II in that the former exercises significant discretion and independent judgment, provides administrative support directly to executive-level positions, and/or may lead the work of staff or supervise a small number of employees.

Administrative Specialist III is distinguished from Administrative Specialist IV in that the latter is responsible for directly supervising the work of four or more employees.

Administrative Specialist III is distinguished from Analyst I in that the work of the latter exercises critical investigative ability, judgment, and discretion in making recommendations or decisions with an organizational impact, and the former provides professional administrative work in support of office, business, or fiscal operations in accordance with established policies, procedures, and techniques.
