Start with a Dream, End with a Plan

Saving adequately for college may seem out of reach, but it is possible with proper planning and discipline. You've taken the first step by consulting with a Financial Advisor. The next step is to look into college savings programs like Tomorrow's Scholar. A Section 529 college savings plan sponsored by the State of Wisconsin and sold nationwide, Tomorrow's Scholar provides families with flexible means to save for a child's college education while taking advantage of multiple tax and estate benefits.

Tomorrow's Scholar 529 Plan

Flexible Contribution Limits

- Anyone can contribute to Tomorrow's Scholar, with high maximums of up to $505,000 per beneficiary. Or one can contribute as little as $25 a month per investment option through an automatic investment program.

A Little Saving Now Can Make a Big Difference Later

- Per month contributions at 6% annual return over 18 years.

Tax Advantages

- 529 Plans like Tomorrow's Scholar offer federally tax-exempt growth and earnings. This feature has the potential to accumulate much more money than if the investment was taxed.

The Power of Tax-Exempt Growth

- Tax-deferred and taxable growth of $10,000 over 18 years (assuming 24% tax bracket and 6% annual return).

These hypothetical examples are for illustrative purposes only. Assumes no withdrawals were taken.

Other Benefits of Tomorrow's Scholar:

- No time, age or income limits for contributions
- Covers most expenses at most schools
- Three ways to invest using world-class managers
- Protected from claims from creditors¹
- Account structure allows for joint ownership
- Owner retains access and control
- Removes assets from taxable estates
- Special gifting rules allows higher funding opportunities

¹ Contributions to a 529 plan account made more than one year before the filing of a bankruptcy petition are generally not considered part of a debtor's bankruptcy estate, provided certain conditions are met. State laws will vary; consult a legal advisor to determine whether state or federal credit protection may apply to your situation.

Investment Options Customizable to Your Needs

Tomorrow's Scholar offers three distinct ways to invest: by age, by risk level, and by building your own portfolio. Working with your Financial Advisor, you can tailor your portfolio to your particular situation with investments that feature some of the largest and most respected asset management firms.

1 Age-Based College Savings Options²

Simply choose a portfolio based on the age of the child, and the portfolio will automatically adjust as the child gets closer to college. The mix of equity and fixed income starts focused on growth and slowly becomes more conservative over time.

2

There are certain risks associated with each investment option. Please see the Program Description for additional information. Holdings are subject to change.

3 Build Your Own Portfolio

Tomorrow's Scholar individual fund options let you and your Financial Advisor create your own portfolio from a broad mix of asset classes, investment styles and world-class managers. Use these individual options, or match them with the age- or risk-based portfolio options.

A Flexible and Tax-Advantaged Way to Save for College

If you were to design the ideal college savings plan for your children, it would probably have some combination of flexible contribution rules, tax advantages for you, gift benefits for grandparents and other donors, the ability to control the assets and even transfer them to another child, and the right to use it for any kind of education expenses at any type of school. All of these benefits exist in 529 Plans like Tomorrow's Scholar.

Flexible Contribution Rules

- Automatic investing or payroll direct deposit begins as low as $25 a month per investment option
- Anyone can contribute (parents, grandparents, family members and friends), with high per donor maximums of $505,000 for each beneficiary
- Accepts tax-free rollovers from other 529 plans, Coverdell Savings Plans (formerly Education IRAs) and qualified U.S. savings bonds (series EE and I)
- Residents are not limited to their own state's plan or that of the state the student enrolls in
- You can even set up a plan for yourself if you're thinking of going back to school
- Automated dollar cost averaging program

Estate and Gift Tax Benefits

- 529s are a great way for grandparents and other family members to create an education legacy for a child while removing assets from estate tax
- Any donor can remove up to $75,000 ($150,000 if married) per beneficiary from their taxable estate
- You can either contribute up to $15,000 per year per beneficiary, or make a lump sum gift of $75,000 ($150,000 if married) per beneficiary every five years—all without gift tax consequences

Tax Advantages

- Any growth or earnings in your account is federally tax-free if used for education
- Withdrawals for qualified education expenses are also free from federal tax

Control over Assets

- The account owner maintains control of the assets until they are distributed for qualified education expenses
- If beneficiary does not go to college, or some money remains unused, the account owner can change the beneficiary

A Wide Range of Covered Education Expenses

- Eligible expenses include tuition, fees, books, on- and off-campus room and board, computers, equipment and supplies
- Eligible institutions include most two- and four-year colleges, technical, vocational and graduate schools as well as primary or secondary public, private and religious schools.³

³ Distributions for tuition in connection with enrollment or attendance at an primary or secondary public, private, or religious school are federally income-tax free up to a maximum of $10,000 per taxable year per beneficiary from all 529 plans. The tax treatment of withdrawals used to pay for primary and secondary school tuition differs between states and as such may differ from the federal tax treatment as well.

Potential Advantages Over Other College Investing Vehicles

There are many options available to help you save for higher education expenses. Your Financial Advisor can help you sort through the choices to come up with the best decision for your needs and budget. Consult your tax professional for tax-related advice.
