

Holiday Recycling Help for Our Community

Visit www.oregonmetro.gov/findarecycler to learn what can be reused and recycled

- Find a drop-off yard debris recycling center or nearby tree collection event.

- Save foam packing peanuts to use again or check with packaging stores who may reuse them; otherwise they go in the garbage.

- If you can't reuse your tinsel strands ("icicles"), these go in the garbage.

- Only plastic bottles and tubs go into your community's recycling. Ask Metro if other plastic packaging and bags can be recycled at a drop off; otherwise, it's trash.

- You can save gift wrap for use next year, or it can go in your home recycling if it isn't foil or plasticized.

- String lights are recycled for the copper in the wires - you can drop them off at a recycling depot or Metro's transfer stations — free of charge.

- Reuse bows and ribbons; otherwise they go in the garbage.

- Electronics (televisions, computers, monitors and other items) don't go in the trash or the recycling. If they are still in good working order, look for donation options. Interested in finding a collection site near you? Contact Oregon E-Cycles at 1-888-5-ECYCLE (1-888-532-9253) or www.oregonecycle.com.

This holiday season, cut back on the waste and the expenses!

- Give experiences such as concert tickets, a dinner out, or items that aren't packaged and will last, like plants.
- Shop for one-of-a-kind items at vintage and resale stores. Check out www.resourcefulpdx.com for ideas, tips and a map of community-based nonprofit organizations that will help you reuse, repair and share tools, building or art supplies, household goods and other materials.
- Repair your fixable items like small appliances, bikes and garments at community events sponsored by RepairPDX.org.
