(5) On May 3, 2010 Moody's released their "Global Scale Ratings" for Oregon local governments resulting in an increase to the underlying rating of these bonds. According to Moody's, the rating changes do not reflect an improvement in credit quality or a change in their opinion, but rather meet the market's desire to have "rating comparability between municipal and non-municipal sectors".

(6) On February 15, 2017, Moody's Investors Service upgraded the rating of the City's Limited Tax Revenue Bonds as well as certain other bonds secured by the City's full faith and credit. These bonds previously had been rated Aa1. According to Moody's, this action "reflects Moody's view of the credit strength of these obligations, which feature a full faith and credit pledge and typically are payable from all legally available funds."
