Unique Experiences

The Safety Learning Center & Fire Museum shares the rich history and heritage of the fire service in Portland, Oregon. Through interactive exhibits and displays, graphic images, real firefighting tools and equipment, and colorful stories, this facility offers a fire station visit like no other.

Firehouse features include an 1860 hose cart, the “Listen & Learn” 9-1-1 call simulator, the firepole, and a realistic emergency response on “The Fire Engine Experience.”

The Belmont Firehouse is not just about history and technology. It also promotes fire & life safety education for every guest. Exhibits and stories help visitors recognize ways in which they are vulnerable to injury and fire.

Every visitor leaves with ideas and techniques to improve their own personal safety and the safety of their loved ones.

The Safety Learning Center & Fire Museum is a joint project between Portland Fire & Rescue and the Jeff Morris Fire & Life Safety Foundation.
