Online Reporting Coming Soon

In the first quarter of 2018 IPR began using new software to develop better ways of communicating IPR complaint and Police Bureau data online. IPR plans to launch multiple interactive “dashboards” on its website in 2018 including overall complaint data, complainant demographics, and allegations and findings for closed cases. Data supporting these dashboards will also be available for download. These dashboards will be updated with new data on a quarterly basis.

First Quarter Community Complaints Data

Preliminary Count of Community Complaints
Q1 2017 - Q1 2018

IPR and Internal Affairs received 105 community complaints during January, February, and March of 2018. This was eight fewer than last quarter, but 14 more complaints than the first quarter of 2017.

Eighty-four of the complaints were received by IPR and twenty-one came through Internal Affairs. Of the IPR complaints, twenty-three were referred to Internal Affairs and intake is ongoing for nine complaints. Fifty-two complaints were dismissed, most commonly because no misconduct was identified. No complaints entered mediation or were initiated by IPR as Independent Investigations.
