Director's Report

1. Independent Police Review (IPR) Work Plan / Accomplishments

New IPR Deputy Director Selected

City Auditor Mary Hull Caballero has named Dana Walton-Macaulay as Deputy Director of Independent Police Review. Ms. Walton-Macaulay's first day will be August 19. Walton-Macaulay currently serves as the director of the Office of Student Conduct at Portland State University and has more than 20 years of experience in higher education administration, specifically investigating and adjudicating conduct matters. She holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of Missouri-Columbia, a master's degree in higher education administration from the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville, and a Juris Doctor from the University of Arkansas William H. Bowen School of Law.

Update on Code Change

The Portland City Attorney's Office will be presenting proposed changes to City Code on August 28, 2019. The changes will amend 3.20.140(C)(2) to clarify that a CRC member will serve on the Police Review Board in all cases involving use of force.

CRC Recruitment

IPR is accepting applications for the Citizen Review Committee. The application is found online at the IPR website. The application deadline is September 5, 2019.

Outreach

IPR Senior Community Outreach Coordinator Irene Konev is reaching out to organizations, community leaders and individuals for the Citizen Review Committee (CRC) recruitment. She networked at Holladay Park Safety Plan meeting, Interfaith Peace and Action Collaborative meeting, Philippine American Chamber of Commerce of Oregon Summer Rooftop Business Networking Event, South East Public Safety Committee Meeting, National Night Out event at Hacienda CDC and met with staff of Unite Oregon.

Konev and IPR Investigator Vince Elmore also attended the Good in the Hood Multicultural Festival and Information Village. IPR director Ross Caldwell, Elmore and Interim IPR Director Amanda Lamb attended Word is Bond Community Showcase event.
