Director's Report

Independent Police Review (IPR) Work Plan / Accomplishments

IPR Operations During COVID

Due to the ongoing public health crisis, all IPR staff are working remotely. Although the IPR office is closed to in-person visits, investigators are available to accept complaints online, by phone or by mail.

Staff Training

All Auditors Office staff, including IPR, attended Bias Habit-Breaking training presented by Dr. William Cox, the Principal Investigator at the Stereotyping and Bias Research Lab at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. This training helps to improve the Auditor's Office's organizational culture and services and to ensure staff deliver racially equitable results to community members.

Volunteer Appreciation

April is volunteer appreciation month and IPR would like to appreciate the volunteers who serve on the Citizen Review Committee. Your time commitment to civilian police oversight is greatly appreciated and Portland is truly lucky to have this team of dedicated volunteers. Some of you have served for several years and some of you are just stepping into this role and you have already spent many hours applying, interviewing for and training for this new role of serving on the CRC.

Community Outreach to Recruit CRC Members

IPR Senior Community Outreach Coordinator Irene Konev recruited applicants by engaging multiple organizations and individuals, including elected officials, attorneys, community- and faith-based organizations, businesses, neighborhood associations, colleges, youth organizations, as well as leaders of groups advocating or providing services for houseless community members and those with mental health challenges. The organizations IPR engaged included:

- Asian Pacific American Chamber of Commerce
- Native American Chamber of Commerce
- Hispanic Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce
- Philippine American Chamber of Commerce
- Native American Youth and Family Center
- Native American Rehabilitation Association
- Self Enhancement Inc.
- Muslim Educational Trust
- Partners in Diversity
- Urban League of Portland
- Latino Network
- El Programa Hispano
- African Youth and Community Organization
- Oregon Association of Minority Entrepreneurs
- Catholic Charities of Oregon
- Metro

Welcome New CRC Members!

On Wednesday April 7th three current CRC members Candace Avalos, Julie Falk and Vadim Mozyrsky were reappointed, and five new members were appointed to begin serving on the CRC. We are excited to work with new members; their impressive bios are found below:

Yume Delegato

Yume was born and raised in Northwest Portland and has worked in Portland's non-profit community for over two decades, most recently as the President and Artistic Director of PDX Pop Now!, a nonprofit dedicated to making local music accessible to all Portlanders. Prior to joining CRC, he served as a community volunteer on the CRC's Crowd Control and Use of Force Workgroup and on the Salmonberry Trail Intergovernmental Agency's Segment Review Committee. In addition to his non-profit work, Yume manages an insurance agency and enjoys hiking and reading about Pacific Northwest culture and history.

Amanda Greenvoss

Amanda has a background in Environmental Education and is currently studying for a master's degree in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages at PSU. She volunteers teaching English to immigrants and refugees through Torus and PCC and delivers food weekly to houseless neighbors through Free Hot Soup. She lives in Southeast Portland with her husband and two kids.

Gregg GA Griffin

Gregg received his Bachelor of Science degree in Education, focusing on curriculum Development from Southern Illinois University, and Dual Master of Computer Information System /Finance degree from Webster University while serving in the United States Navy. Originally from Chicago IL, he moved to Oregon in 1998 to pursue a Systems Analyst position with Regions Blue Cross/BlueShield. Inspired by Portland's advocacy spirit, he has volunteered with several local organizations, including OPB/KMHD, Portland Street Medicine, and Trillium Family Services. Currently, Griffin holds the position of Board President at Hand Up Project, an organization that addresses systemic issues around the unhoused community, for which he has served on the board for the past five years. Against Portland's backdrop of diverse culture and natural beauty, he continually fosters his interests in social justice, physical fitness, and the study of music and local jazz artists.

Jessica Katz

Jessica founded the Family Preservation Project at the Coffee Creek Correctional Facility in 2003 which is the subject of the documentary film, "Mothering Inside." Prior to founding the Family Preservation Project, she worked with the Children's Aid Society in New York to create programs advocating for the rights of parents involved in the child welfare system. She also taught legal education workshops at prisons throughout New York through Columbia University's Prisoners and Families Clinic. Jessica has presented at local, national and international conferences, has been recognized as a Re-unification Hero by the American Bar Association, and is an Alumna of Emerge Oregon. Recently she was instrumental in making Oregon the first state to legislatively adopt a "Bill of Rights for Children of Incarcerated Parents." Jessica is honored to work alongside women and children who have been most directly impacted by our criminal legal system towards more just and humane solutions.

Kyra Pappas

Kyra received her Master's in Nursing Education from IUPUI- Indiana University School of Nursing. She has been a higher ed professional, working as the Director of Multicultural Services and Student Leadership for the past 10 years and is a Nurse Educator. She focusses her work with colleges, hospitals, and community organizations on educating about how to create equitable, inclusive, and empowering environments and structures.

Police Review Board

We have now piloted the digital file share for two PRBs. We expect an increase in PRBs as we work our way through the high volume of investigations from the last year.

Settlement Agreement

DOJ released their Fifth Periodic Compliance Assessment Report which determined that the City of Portland is no longer in substantial compliance with several categories of the Settlement Agreement. IPR's main focus is to work through the backlog of investigations, meet our timelines and regain substantial compliance with our section of the Settlement Agreement.
