

Thank you for coming tonight.

Where do we go from here?

- Staff and the Citizens Advisory Committee will review the comments received from tonight's open house.
- Staff will prepare and present a report for City Council (tentatively late July 2011). When a final date is confirmed for this presentation it will be announced on the project website and emailed to the project interest list.
- Once approved by City Council the Final Recommendation will go into a design engineering phase where the detailed engineering drawings are developed.
- Test implementation: the recommended diversion designs will be installed as test projects as a means to evaluate their performance. Staff will report back to the neighborhood on the results of the testing and evaluation.
- Construction is slated for approximately late 2012.

Photo credit: Jonathan Maus/www.BikePortland.org