

52nd Ave/ Division Diversion

Testing Process

The proposed regulations restricting northbound access will be tested prior to final implementation to ensure the changes meet the project objectives of reducing cut-through traffic volumes on 52nd Ave and Lincoln St, while at the same time not shifting the problem to adjacent residential streets.

The test will last for 6 months. Additional public involvement events will be scheduled to review the testing results. If problems are identified, additional mitigation will be considered, such as speed bumps on adjacent streets. If the test shows traffic volumes on adjacent streets increasing above 150 cars/day, the access restrictions will be removed.
