The Portland Bureau of Transportation proposes a new calm and safe walking and biking route on NE 9th Ave to connect neighbors to important destinations like schools, churches, community centers, and parks.

Join us for a community meeting & public open house where you'll be able to:

- learn about the project's history, and how prior public involvement has shaped the project goals and outcomes
- engage with PBOT staff and neighbors to share your perspective on the benefits and impacts of a range of design strategies for this project - with a specific focus on the northern section of the project (NE Prescott St to NE Killingsworth)
- share feedback and give input to help inform the final recommended design for the project

CAN'T MAKE THE EVENT?

No worries! We still want to hear from you!

Open house materials will be made available online at the time of the event. Visit the project website to view the materials and share your feedback online.

While you're there, you can also learn more about Lloyd to Woodlawn Neighborhood Greenway planning process - which resulted in the NE 9th Ave Neighborhood Greenway and Safer 7th Ave projects.
