Construction for Hannah Mason Pump Station (Fulton Pump Station Replacement Project) to Disrupt Traffic on SW Nevada Street

Construction continues on a Portland Water Bureau project to build a new pump station in Willamette Park in Southwest Portland. As part of the Hannah Mason Pump Station construction project, contractors will need access to SW Nevada Street, west of Macadam from July 20 through Aug. 14. Periodic construction will take place Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. For one block west of Macadam, access along SW Nevada will be limited to local traffic only while crews install new pipes. As with any construction project, safety is our first priority. Please obey flaggers and all construction signs.

The Hannah Mason Pump Station is being built to replace the aging Fulton Pump Station on SW Nevada Street. Work began in March and will continue to the autumn of 2016. The Water Bureau is working closely with Portland Parks & Recreation and other local agencies to coordinate this project with ongoing operations and other projects in the area. We will keep neighbors, local businesses and other stakeholders updated as work progresses.
